

Powertec recognises current industry standards for environmental management and ecologically sustainable development as a corporate commitment and embrace environmental best practice as a fundamental part of our working methodology.

Our commitment to environmental best practice ensures that we :

- Comply with all local and national legislation
- Comply with corporately subscribed initiatives
- Have full regard for employees, customers and community environmental expectations
- Continually improve our Environmental Management System (EMS) by establishing, monitoring and reviewing EMS objectives and targets
- Monitor and review environmental documentation, processes and performance to address non-conformances and facilitate continual improvement
- Support a philosophy of preventing environmental harm associated with the impacts of our activities
- Contribute to the development of employee, industrial and community environmental awareness and protection
- Work within a sustainable framework and use resources responsibly to minimise waste and maximise value to all stakeholders
- Inform and train our staff in all aspects of environmental best practice as part of our structured training and development policy

Instruct all staff to act in a manner that adheres to this policy and promotes environmental best practice in the workplace and general society

Graeme I Anderson